Sri Shankaranarayana Temple, Kodavoor (also known as Mahathobara Shri Shankaranarayana Temple or Kodavoor Shankaranarayana Temple), near Malpe in Udupi District, Karnataka.

This ancient temple is one of the rare and sacred spots where Lord Shiva (Shankara) and Lord Vishnu (Narayana) are worshipped together in a single self-manifested (swayambhu) linga form, symbolizing perfect harmony between Shaivism and Vaishnavism.

It's distinct from the more famous Shankaranarayana in Kundapura taluk (the Parasurama-created mukti sthalam); this Kodavoor one is a local coastal gem close to Malpe beach, with deep historical roots and a serene, devotional vibe.

Here's the compiled information under the requested headings (drawn from temple sites, devotee blogs, travel reviews, and local sources as of 2026):

Location, Address, Phone, How to Get There

Location: Kodavoor village, near Malpe (about 1-2 km from Malpe beach), Udupi Taluk, Udupi District, Karnataka. It's in a peaceful coastal-rural area with coconut groves and proximity to the Arabian Sea (~2-3 km). PIN: 576108.

Address: Mahathobara Shri Shankaranarayana Temple, Kodavoor, Malpe, Udupi, Karnataka 576108.

Phone/Contact: Limited public numbers; common inquiry contact from local listings: +91-820-2537531 (temple-related) or check Justdial for updates.

For precise pooja inquiries, visit or ask locals/priests on-site.

How to Get There:

By Air: Mangalore International Airport (IXE) ~60 km (1.5-2 hours drive).

By Train: Udupi Railway Station ~12-15 km; Malpe has a nearby halt in some routes.

By Road: From Udupi city (~10-12 km), take local buses, auto, or cab via Malpe Road (15-20 min).
From Bengaluru (~400 km), NH66 via Mangalore-Udupi (8-10 hours); then a short local drive to Kodavoor.
Malpe beach is a landmark — the temple is very close. Self-drive or KSRTC buses to Malpe/Udupi are convenient.

Greatness of This Temple

A sacred harmonizing kshetra where Shiva and Vishnu are united as Shankaranarayana, promoting unity and universal devotion.

It's revered for granting peace, family harmony, and spiritual balance.

The swayambhu linga (part Shiva-round, part Vishnu-flat) is a rare symbol of advaita (non-duality).

Proximity to Malpe's beaches adds a serene, refreshing pilgrimage experience. Devotees praise its calm atmosphere and ancient sanctity.

Legends and History

According to local traditions, the temple dates back over a millennium, linked to ancient sages and the harmony of Shaiva-Vaishnava traditions.

The swayambhu linga emerged naturally, with Shiva and Vishnu manifesting together.

History traces influences from Ganga, Chola, Hoysala, and Vijayanagara periods, with the temple renovated over time. It's tied to coastal Karnataka's rich temple heritage, emphasizing unity between the two major sects.

Architecture of Temple & Deities

Traditional Dravidian/Kerala-influenced coastal Karnataka style with intricate carvings, gopuram, and sanctum.

The main garbhagudi houses the unique swayambhu Udbhava Linga (self-manifested), where Lord Shankara (Shiva) and Narayana (Vishnu) are represented together — Shiva portion rounded, Vishnu flat.

This sangam (confluence) form is the highlight.

Main Deity: Lord Shankaranarayana (combined Shiva-Vishnu form).

Subdeities

Standard accompaniments likely include Lord Ganesha, other Shiva/Vishnu forms, and possibly local deities (common in such temples). Focus remains on the main linga.

Daily Rituals and Poojas

Timings (approximate, confirm locally): Opens ~6:00 AM–12:30/1:00 PM, reopens ~3:30/5:00 PM–8:00/9:00 PM.

Includes suprabhata, abhishekam, archana, aarti, and offerings. Devotees perform prokshana and darshan; simple poojas available on request.

Special Poojas and Rituals

Special abhishekam, archana for harmony/peace. No specific elaborate sevas listed online; nominal dakshina to priests. Contact the temple for requests.

Festivals

- Annual Rathotsava/Car Festival (9 days, with chariot procession, katte pooje — major event drawing crowds).
- Shankaranarayana Jaatre (fair, often January).
- Maha Shivaratri, Vaikunta Ekadashi, and other Shiva/Vishnu festivals observed with devotion.

Facilities for Devotees (Like Accommodation, Etc.)

Basic temple facilities: Clean premises, parking, prasadam. No on-site accommodation — day visits are common. Nearby in Udupi/Malpe for stays.

Donation Info and Bank Acct Number Etc.

No public bank/online details found (local temple). Donate via hundi or direct to trust/priests. Contact for large contributions.

Nearby Temples

- Malpe Balarama Temple (very close).
- Udupi Sri Krishna Temple (~12 km).
- Pajaka Kshetra (Adi Shankara birthplace ~ nearby).

Located in the serene village of Kodavoor, just a stone's throw from the famous Malpe beach, the Sri Shankaranarayana Temple is a spiritual gem in the Udupi district.

It is particularly unique for its "Hari-Hara" concept, representing the union of Lord Shiva (Shankara) and Lord Vishnu (Narayana).

🏛️ History and Significance

The temple holds immense historical and mythological importance in the Tulu Nadu region:

* Legend of Kroda Muni: The name "Kodavoor" is derived from Kroda Muni, a sage who performed intense penance here. The area was originally known as Krodashrama.

* The Divine Confluence: According to local lore, Lord Shiva and Lord Vishnu appeared together as Shankaranarayana to bless Kroda Muni.

This makes it one of the rare temples where both deities are worshipped as a single entity.

* MADHVACHARYA'S VISIT: IT is historically significant for followers of the Dvaita philosophy; it is said that Shri Madhvacharya visited this temple to offer prayers when he was just three years old.

* Parashurama Kshetra: It is often associated with the seven sacred "Parashurama Kshetras" of coastal Karnataka.

🎨 Architecture and Features

The temple showcases the classic coastal (Tuluva) architectural style:

* Main Deity: The presiding deity is Lord Shankaranarayana.
A unique feature of the sanctum is the Udbhava Linga, a naturally formed stone submerged in water (Suddhamrita Teertha), which represents both Shiva and Vishnu.

* The Two Nandis: While most temples in the Udupi region have a single Nandi, Kodavoor is unique for having two Nandis at the entrance.

* Sub-Shrines: The complex also houses shrines for Lord Ganapathi (the "Tudekatte Ganapathi" near the river), Durgamata, Lord Shiva, and a Nagabana (snake shrine).

* Koti Teertha: There is a sacred holy pond located right in front of the temple where devotees traditionally perform prokshana (sprinkling of water) before entering.

⏰ Timings and Rituals

* Morning: 6:00 AM – 1:00 PM
* Evening: 5:00 PM – 9:00 PM

* Note: Timings may extend during special festival days or during the Paryaya season in nearby Udupi.

🎊 Major Festivals

* Annual Car Festival (Rathotsava): The most significant event, typically held in January (around Makara Sankranti).

The deity is carried in a silver palanquin to devotees' houses, followed by a grand chariot procession.

* Laksha Deepotsava: The temple and the surrounding streets are illuminated with thousands of oil lamps, creating a mesmerizing sight.

* Ganesha Chaturthi: Celebrated with special Gana Homas.

* Navaratri: Special Chandika Homas are performed during this period.

📍 Location and Accessibility

* Address: Kodavoor Village, near Malpe, Udupi, Karnataka – 576108.
* Distance: Approximately 5 km from Udupi Krishna Math and 1 km from Malpe Beach.
* How to Reach: Easily accessible via local buses from Udupi or by auto-rickshaw from Malpe or Udupi city. The nearest railway station is Indrali (Udupi), about 7 km away.

Rituals and Sevas

Rituals at the Kodavoor Sri Shankaranarayana Temple are centered around the unique Udbhava Linga (naturally formed stone) which is always partially submerged in water.

This water is considered the Suddhamrita Teertha.

Below are the typical daily and special sevas with their approximate charges.

Please note that while these rates are generally stable, they are subject to change by the Temple Management Committee.

🏮 Daily Sevas and Rituals

These sevas can be performed on any day during the temple opening hours.

Seva Name	Description	Approx. Charge (₹)
Ashtothara Archana	Chanting of 108 names of the Lord	₹20 – ₹50
Panchamrita Abhisheka	Ritual bath using five items (milk, curd, ghee, honey, sugar)	₹150 – ₹300
Karthika Pooje	Offering of oil lamps to the deity	₹50 – ₹100
Hannu-Kai (Coconut/Fruit)	Offering of coconut and fruits with Mangalarathi	₹50 – ₹100
Nandadeepa	Sponsoring the main oil lamp for a day	₹100 – ₹200
Sahasranama Archana	Chanting of 1000 names of the Lord	₹100 – ₹250

Special Poojas and Yearly Sevas

These are often performed for specific intentions or on significant dates.

Gana Homa	Fire ritual for Lord Ganapathi (often done for removing obstacles)	₹500 – ₹1,500
Rangasajje	Elaborate decoration of the temple with lamps and flowers	₹2,000+
Shashwatha Seva	A one-time deposit where a pooja is performed in your name once a year	₹5,000 – ₹10,000
Anna Santharpana	Sponsoring the mid-day meal for devotees (Mass feeding)	₹15,000+
Silver Chariot Seva	Pulling the silver chariot during festivals	Varies by event

Important Notes for Devotees

* Dress Code: Traditional attire is highly encouraged.

Men are expected to wear a Veshti (Dhoti) and Angavastra (shoulders should be bare or covered with a shawl inside the inner sanctum).

Women should wear Sarees or long skirts.

* Prasada: Usually, the morning Maha Pooja (around 12:30 PM) is followed by the distribution of Teertha and Prasada.

* Booking: For large-scale sevas like Anna Santharpana or Gana Homa, it is advisable to contact the temple office at least 2-3 days in advance.

* Tudekatte Ganapathi: Don't forget to offer a separate Coconut Seva at the Ganapathi shrine near the river, as it is a local tradition to seek his permission before the main darshan.
